

When Darkness Falls

Song Lyrics

11. SEEING BLIND

In a world where difference matters
Just who am I?
In a world that turns in circles
No reason why
Who can I be in this world that leaves no place for difference?
What do you see when you think you see my heart?
Will you turn away, seeing only the grey
Will you pass me by yet never see

*There's a beauty that lies
In this world of many colours
Turn your face to the sky
Look beyond the black and grey
Every flower that grows
Every colour of rose
Every sunset, each twisted broken tree
Made in colour, just waiting to be seen*

Every time you follow blindly
Just passing by
Too afraid to look behind the
Convenient lie
Who can I be in this world that leaves no place for difference?
Who will you see if you look into my eyes?
Will you pass me by, turn your face to the sky
Will you pass me by, yet never see?

©2007 Judy

WWW.JUDYSMUSIC.CO.UK - a Celtic music experience